Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Children's stories are popular among the young and the old because in them you can almost differentiate between the good and the bad people. A character like Snow White is good, where as her stepmother is evil. Also in children's stories, justice always wins and evil loses .In another story, "The wicked witch" is defeated and the beautiful little girl goes home safely. That's why children find any other kind of stories unbelievable. They simply cannot understand how evil can go unpunished or good unrewarded. As they grow up, they realise that life is not that simple. People have both good and bad qualities, and justice does not always win. If a story does not take this into account, we may think of it as boring or childish. To make a reader a little sad is much better than to deceive him or her.

Answer the following questions:

31. What do children realise about life when they grow up?

They realize that what happens in real life is not exactly like what happens in children's stories.

32. In your opinion what are the best children's stories?

The best children's stories are those which show what really happens in life. They also should be interesting and easy to read.

33. Why don't children believe stories where justice loses?

.....because children cannot understand how evil can go unpunished or good unrewarded.

- (B) differentiate between the young and the old.
- (C) save a little girl.
- (D) differentiate between the good and the bad. Correct

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

In ancient China, The governor announced a reward for the artist who would draw a masterpiece of art. The governor would place it at the door of his palace for a whole year. If no one could find a fault with it, the artist would be rewarded. But if any defect was discovered, the work would be returned and no reward would be given. One day a man brought a painting of an ear of corn and a bird sitting on it. A thousand people saw it and thought it was perfect. On the last day of the year, an old man came and asked, "How can a bird sit on an ear of corn without making it bend?" The observation was right and the artist wasn't rewarded. To receive such a prize, an artist had to be careful with every detail of his work.

Answer the following questions:

36.

How long did an artist have to wait to get a reward?

An artist had to wait for a whole year to get a reward.

37.

Why was the artist in the story not rewarded?

A week ago, I read an interesting story that I enjoyed so much. It's about Thomas Edison, the famous inventor and scientist. When he was young, his teachers thought he was stupid because he asked too many questions. They wanted him to leave school. Edison had a great mother. She believed in her son. She thought he was not an ordinary child. She decided to help him. She brought him teachers and he was educated at home. His wonderful mother always encouraged and supported him. Edison loved her so much. He once said "My mother was so true, so sure of me: and I felt I had something to live for, someone I must not disappoint." Thanks to his mother, Edison became one of the most famous scientists in the world. He made great inventions. He is famous for his light bulb.
